

EDITORIAL

After the pause imposed by the global pandemic, ICWSE unfolded this year with great joy its 13th edition. Same as the previous editions, ICWSE 2023 was organized by the Faculty of Furniture Design and Wood Engineering at the Transilvania University, in the beautiful city of Brasov, Romania.

102 scientists, researchers, and industry people from 30 countries, from all over the world, participated at this beloved event, which promotes in a unique way wood science, wood engineering, but also wood craft and art, transforming us again and again in stunned admirers of Interesting questions and vivid discussions gave life and scientific weight to the event, to the satisfaction of all the present. Thank you to all attenders! Thanks to your interest, this event continues to be successful and attractive.

See you again in November 2025!

Mihaela CÂMPEAN
Editor-in-chief